

Granville honored for sustainable growth projects in Fresno

By BoNhia
Lee

Granville Homes is the winner of three Blueprint Awards from the San Joaquin Valley Regional Policy Council.

The council is a forum of eight Valley counties that promote sustainable growth and planning. Three of the homebuilder's downtown Fresno projects were honored in three separate categories: commercial development for its M Street Arts Complex; downtown revitalization for Crichton Place; and historic district for Bungalow Court.

The awards will be presented during the council's Fall Policy Conference luncheon on Oct. 3 in Visalia.

Visit fresnobee.com throughout the day for breaking news and updates.

Copyright

© 2014 www.fresnobee.com and wire service sources. All Rights Reserved. <http://www.fresnobee.com>