

Vocational ed effort is on the way

The arguments offered supporting the need for greater focus on vocational education in The Bee's Feb. 25 editorial are well-founded.

However, the single focus on Fresno Unified is misplaced. A more closer look would reveal the reality that a joint effort between State Center Community College District and Fresno, Clovis and Central unified school districts, as well as the Fresno County Office of Education, is already in place and is in the on-going process of being improved and upgraded.

Putting the Fresno Unified Board of Trustees and Superintendent Hanson in adversarial roles is not the way to proceed in creating a positive narrative and approach to addressing an issue of this significance.

James Hendricks

Fresno