

Ignoring groundwater problem

California's Environmental Protection Agency assigns the blame for Kern County's groundwater contamination on "confusion, lax oversight and mis-communication" among state and federal regulators (The Bee, Mar. 4).

The Cal EPA could add that our public representatives, as well as the companies producing the toxins, are irresponsible, ignorant, disrespectful of others and greedy.

Marjorie Berry

Coarsegold