

Stop growth until water is fixed

I am 90 years old and read about the drought. Not sure what is being done about it.

What bothers me is the people who are in charge have not solved or really worked on the problem.

Why do they approve building apartments, condos, homes and businesses, without getting the water problem first?

Building requires water and the people who will live in them will use water. Growth is good, but I would be happier with water.

John Romeo

Fresno