The Fresno Irrigation District will host a series of public meetings next month for growers and Fresno County residents to learn about the state's new Sustainable Groundwater Management Act.

The 2014 legislation marks the first time California has required local authorities to create management plans for the use of groundwater.

The meetings, each beginning at 8:30 a.m., will be held at the following locations:

Clovis — Nov. 4, Clovis City Council chambers (1033 Fifth St., Clovis)

Easton — Nov. 6, Easton CPEDS Hall (172 W. Jefferson Ave., Fresno)

Kerman — Nov. 10, Kerman Community Center (15101 W. Kearney Blvd., Kerman)
